	Pastor Harold and Brenda Ray hosted an interview with Lynda Bell of P.O.P.S., Parents Opposing Propaganda in Schools and Attorney John (John) Thompson. Bell and Thompson discussed the "Link Line" which is a series of tapes and is a school program sponsored by United Way, HRS and Channel 10. The tapes contain subjects on sex, drugs, homosexuality, etc. The tapes tell teens it is alright to have sex out of marriage, homosexuality is normal and encourages teens to engage in alternate sexual experiences, which they will discover their true sexual identity. That drugs is okay as long as they do not mix it with alcohol and that marijuana is neither legal or illegal. These tapes are in violation of "The Drug Free Act" and "Florida Law Against The Sex Act". Bell told viewers that parents are trying to un-do the damage these tapes have done to their children. Parents were encouraged to get involved and let the School System and United Way that they are against the "Link Line".

	Attorney, Harold Ray, introduced John Thompson, Attorney at Law and J.T. Johnson of the Christian Coalition. They presented an expose on a school program called "The Link Line". The Link Line consists of 71 tapes produced by the University of Wisconsin and deals with homosexuality under the disguise of an anti-drug program. Homosexuality is presented as something with which to experiment one's sexuality and that it is normal from birth for some people. Encouraged teenagers to try homosexuality to find out if is normal for them, the tapes validity pre-martial sexual exploration. Because public tax monies were used to produce and promote the course of "study" as a anti-drug program, the audience was urged to voice their views to school systems across the nation. The tapes also encourages teens to think of their parents as enemies trying to suppress their sexual maturation. A warning letter was sent to the state of Florida by Parents Opposing Propaganda in Schools, giving 20 days to prove the tapes are an anti-drug presentation. Viewers were warned to be aware if this propagandized program was initiated into their children's school and to boycott United Way that funds the project.

	Pastor Richard and Patrice Risi host an interview with Dr. Frank Jacobs, Executive Director of Rescue Mission. Jacobs talks of how the homeless used to be visioned as people wearing torned clothes, ragged shoes, but now he sees the homeless coming from all walks of life. Jacobs talks about how the average age of the homeless used to be in their 60's, now the average age is mid 20's. Also 30% of the homeless are women and children. Jacobs discuss that many have lost their jobs due to modern technology taking over more of the work force. Jacobs talks of what the Rescue Mission has to order such as, couselfing, prayer meetings and feeding the hungry.

Miami Praise The Lord #1116-90

Dr. Clifford and Nedda Horvath interview Clay Foster, Co-ordinator for the Community Participation Dept. of the Dade County Public Schools. The particular program that Foster focuses in on is the "Listen to Children" program. Foster explains that the type of listening that is spoken of here is that of active listening. Active listening involves direct eye contact with the child, allowing the child to express his area of problem one on one with someone who has the time to listen and then help the child through the particular subject of problem on their level and at a pace comfortable for the child. Foster has found that reading, science and math are the subjects that are most commonly a problem.

Pastor Richard and Patrice Risi interview Pastor Charles Schmitz, Founder-Headmaster of Christian Liberty Academy and his wife Barbara, a teacher at the Academy. The Schmitz's explain that within their Academy the Beca system is used. The Academy is that of a home structural atmosphere where a child is able to be given more personalized instruction than what he would be given in the normal setting of a crowded public school classroom. Although the teachers are not certified "per say" as a homeschool parent is not certified, the students are given the normal standard achievement tests in order to determine their progress. Overall, the students in the academy have tested well above the average child at their age. Barbara explains some of their particular methods of teaching and makes note that they do incorporate the Word of God.

	Ty Bragg reported that secular humanism in the public schools of America is increasing. It has been discovered that our textbooks are inaccurate in numerous ways. Mistakes in dates, geography and other factual errors have been discovered. Textbooks have had to be returned to publishers to be completely re-done and then found to still have errors after the second publication. Jay Sekulow and Ty Bragg agreed that this condition is because the church has stayed too far out of the schools. Jay and Ty discussed the fact that the National Association of Education actually have a pamphlet printed telling schools how to deal with parents that question textbooks and curriculum, etc. Viewers were encouraged to become involved and serve on textbook review committees.

	Sandy Gogel, a home-schooling expert and founder of Sycamore Tree School , spoke about the advantages of home schooling. Along with an array of resource materials and educational aids displayed, Sandy also explained to the host, Jay Jones, why home school children are tested higher on aptitude tests than public school students. The problems with public schools and private schools were listed as educational, motivational and a conflict with home/parental values. Benefits of home schooling were listed as perfect teacher/student ratio, no peer pressure and parental values can be taught without conflict. Home schooling has been proven to develop better leadership skills than public schools which tend to develop problem children and/or build upon problems already inherent within the child.

Trollinger explains that during this 8-12 month stay at the home, the girls are taught to do various domestic jobs as well as being taught academics. It's a time of learning, growth, education and training in all aspects of life, so that when these girls leave the home, they are well educated and able to go out and obtain work and carry on a life with meaning and purpose.

	Host, Harold Ray, an attorney, conducted a panel discussion with guests: Musical therapist, Lee Lambert, Founder of Musickinetics; Marilyn Vonseggern, Supervisor of Music Education; and Charles Southland, S.P.M., Doctor of Podiatric Medicine. They discuss research regarding music as a therapy tool to elicit non-musical activities and stimuli. The effects of music on anxiety during medical treatment, even surgery, and the fact that most illnesses are created initially by stress areas in our lives is discussed. Research in education are on-going to prove that music, especially symphonic music may be an actual preventive to disease. Because music transcends all nationalities, religions, etc. the research can be taken throughout the world in the educational fields.

	Tustin High School Principal, Duffy Clark, spoke about what parents can do to be involved in achieving a better education for their children. Parental involvement is singled out as the most important factor in education. Quality time, good communication with the children, and good parental role modeling help to counteract the present day educational problems. Being involved outside the home with your child, and good quality time within the home will help the child to learn and cope with school as a whole.

facts regarding the new state policy of pulling the accreditation from schools that teach creationism. Ken states that the state superintendent of schools, Kenneth Honig, is following advisors and has already pulled accreditations. The I.C.R. is taking suit against the state in federal court to challenge the state's actions. Discussion follows regarding the impact upon private Christian schools and the audience is exhorted to be informed and take proper legal actions.

Jay Jones hosts guest Reginald Elliot, Director of the D C Street Academy. The Academy is an educational institute that stresses the importance of education and staying in school/getting back into school. The school is built on Christian values and Mr. Elliot uses love as the primary motivation in dealing with youth. Dealing with potential school drop-outs, Me. Elliot had cultural enrichment programs and makes sure the young people are exposed to all sides of the business world. Businessmen come into the school and share their experiences.

Dr. Kennedy #9035

N PA/O 09-04-90 8:00p 58:30

Dr. Kennedy devotes the entire program to the problems in public education in America. Kennedy relates facts such as 4 out of 1,000 were illiterate 150 years ago when education was left in the hands of the church and now illiteracy has increased 32 times. America now has 27 million illiterate and 30 million functional illiterates. America now approaches Zambia in the percentage of illiteracy. The history of modern education is discussed with examples of Horace Mann and Thomas Dewey education methods. Kennedy offers proof of the decline of good education in America and the resulting poor job-ready population. His solution is based upon the reversal of education by state and in place, the education of the masses by the church. Kennedy says that the crime and problems in our present day school system is directly related to a God-less education.

DRUG/ALCOHOL ADDICTION	Praise The Lord 0622-90 Carlton Pearson hosts a feature on drug/alcohol abuse. Guests: Detective Stanley Griffis, an ordained minister in the Narcotics Division of the Dallas Police Department; two residents of the "Set Free Ranch," Nate Warren and April Fadley, both former drug addicts. They begin by showing a roll-in featuring a recognition award given to TBN for their anti-drug abuse program presented to the city of Dallas, and a presentation by the Governor of Texas to TBN, received by Dave Roeber. Griffis, in the Department's program in the public schools of anti-drug drive, points out that alcohol and tobacco are the most abused, but marijuana is widespread, being the catalyst to stronger drugs. Nate and April share their experiences with drugs, both detailing the misery, private, and degradation they sank to before being delivered by Jesus Christ.	N	PA/O	06-22-90 10:00p	1:39:48

Panelists: Jeffery Gerber, Anti-Racial Busing Campaign, petitioning for a constitutional amendment to allow parents to choose their child's school by ending forced racial busing; Jesse Payne, President of Broward County Urban League. Host comments that it seems Gerber is indicating that the illiteracy of individuals in this country is solely attributable to forced integration. Gerber comments that what he is saying is that it's the fault of all the expenses that are used for unneeded buses, fuel, repairs, etc. instead of using that money for education. After a rather controversial discussion, Ray concludes that when the issue does confront you, make sure that the allocations and accusations that are being proliferated are documented and substantiated. Jay Jones discusses alcohol and drug addiction with Bob and Pauline Bartosch, Founders of "Overcomers Outreach". Having been an alcoholic himself, Bob understands the alcoholic, and Pauline, formerly addicted to Valium, understands how drugs can enslave a person. They present a 12 step program with Christ as the Higher Power to help lead the addict to overcoming. The addict only remembers the good times, so drinks again and again. The drugs or alcohol actually become the controlling force in the life of the addict, and the desire to change isn't enough without outside help.

Sheila Walsh introduces a segment illustrating the debilitating effects of drugs, and their powerful addictive quality. Dr. Howard Thomas, a practising physician became addicted to the drugs he was prescribing for his patients. His wife followed. Both were committed to mental institutions. Dr. Thomas lost his license to practise. This caused him to turn to Christ, and both he and his wife were delivered. Dr. Thomas points out that drugs and alcohol incapacitate a person for a meaningful life.

Pat Robertson introduces a segment on the devastating effects of drugs. He welcomes and interviews Heisman trophy winner Charles White and wife Judi. A former running back with the NFL, White got hooked on cocaine, beginning with beer, then marijuana, then cocaine. With his life messed up and his marriage wrecked, White turned to Christ and was delivered from his addiction. Another guest on the same segment Dave DeFelip began his addiction by smoking pot at 12 years of age. He went on to speed and LSD, but depression and thoughts of suicide plagued him until he overdosed, and called to God for help. God delivered him.
